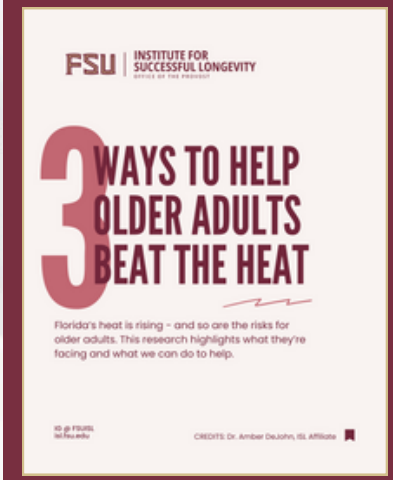
COMING OUT MONDAY: New Podcast Episode no.3

Keep an eye out for the ISL's third podcast episode featuring ISL Biological Sciences Working Group Lead and Assistant Professor, Dr. Ravinder Nagpal! New episodes bi-weekly.

Big news from the eHealth Lab and the ISL!

Dr. Zhe He and Dr. Balu Bhasuran will present two podium abstracts and a poster at AMIA 2025, showcasing FSU-led research on pediatric transplantation and the LabGenie initiative. Their team will also lead a workshop on open-source LLMs in healthcare. Congratulations to all collaborators: Xiaoyu Wang, Mike Killian, Dr. Karim Hanna, Zhan Zhang, Luis Sanchez, Harjith Pradeep, Dr. Mia Liza A. Lustria, and Xiao Luo!

BEAT THE HEAT!



Florida is heating up, and so are the risks for older adults.

In our latest research spotlight, ISL Affiliate Dr. Amber DeJohn shares key insights from a new survey on how older adults are coping with extreme heat, what challenges they face, and what we can do to help.

ISL WELCOMES NEW POSTDOC RESEARCH FELLOW

The Institute for Successful Longevity is excited to welcome Dr. Daniel Leme as its newest Postdoctoral Research Fellow.

Dr. Leme brings extensive international expertise in gerontology, rehabilitation, and public health, with a career spanning Brazil, Canada, and the U.S. His research focuses on frailty and aging, using advanced methods like machine learning and network analysis.

With his clinical background and global perspective, Dr. Leme is a valuable addition to the ISL team. We look forward to the new insights and collaborations his work will bring to our community.

OUT NOW: PODCAST EPISODE NO.2
VOICES OF LONGEVITY: MEET THE RESEARCHERS

Special Guest: Dr. Daniel Leme
In this episode, the ISL welcomes special guest Dr. Daniel Leme, ISL's newest team member. He shares his international journey in aging research, from Brazil to Canada to FSU, and discusses his work on frailty, hospital discharge delays, and improving health outcomes for older adults.
